

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| List of Contributors | x |
| Preface and Acknowledgments | xiv |
| Part I History, Status Quo, and Trends in Global Crisis and Risk Communication Research | I |
| 1. Global Threats and the Significance of International Risk and Crisis Communication Research: Advancing Integration, Diversity, and Complexity Andreas Schwarz | 3 |
| 2. History of Crisis and Risk Communication: The Development of a Global Community of Multi-Disciplinary Research, Theory and Practice Matthew W. Seeger | 15 |
| 3. Beyond Borders and Bridging Worlds: Unveiling Cultural Dynamics in International Risk and Crisis Communication Sora Kim | 28 |
| Part II Strategic and Institutional Communicators in International Crises and Risks | 41 |
| 4. Military, Government, and Media Management in Wartime Kathrin Schleicher | 43 |
| 5. Crisis Communication in the Context of Terrorism: Process Approach to Complex Crises Aino Ruggiero and Minttu Tikka | 55 |
| 6. Paradigms of Risk and Crisis Communication and the Threat of Misinformation and Disinformation Michael J. Palenchar and Robert L. Heath | 70 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| 7. Strategic Communication in Global Health Crises: Are (Trans)National Institutions Up to the Task? Martin Löffelholz and Yi Xu | 80 |
| 8. International Organizational Crisis Communication: A Simple Rules Approach to Managing Crisis Complexity Andrew S. Pyle, Ryan P. Fuller, and Robert R. Ulmer | 94 |
| 9. Political Crises Bengt Johansson and Orla Vigsø | 108 |
| Part III The Role of Legacy Media and Social Media in International Crises and Risks | 119 |
| 10. War Reporting in an Evolving Media Landscape: Perspectives and Prospects Aynur Sarisakaloğlu and Pauline Gidget Estella | 121 |
| 11. Terrorism, Lone Wolf Shootings, School Shootings, and the Role of (Social) Media Liane Rothenberger and Melanie Verhovnik-Heinze | 135 |
| 12. Environmental Risk Communication: The Challenges to Progressively Affecting Behavior Michael J. Palenchar and Carla White | 144 |
| 13. Missed Risk and Crisis Communication Opportunities During the COVID-19 Pandemic Brooke Fisher Liu and Cynthia Baur | 155 |
| 14. The Role of Legacy Media and Social Media in International Organizational Risk and Crisis Communication Yan Jin and Toni G.L.A. van der Meer | 168 |
| 15. Political Crisis Communication and the Rhetorical Arena: An Analysis of President Zelensky's War Addresses and Social Media Use Elin Strand Larsen and Øyvind Ihlen | 180 |
| Part IV The Role of Audiences, Citizens, and Victims in International Crises and Risks | 193 |
| 16. War, Media, and Public Opinion: A Battle for Hearts and Minds Michel M. Haigh | 195 |
| 17. Communicating Terrorism: Meaning-Making and Crisis Ruth DeFoster | 205 |
| 18. Reoccurring Challenges and Emerging Threats: Crises and the New Millennium Patric R. Spence and Kenneth A. Lachlan | 216 |

| | | |
|--|--|------------|
| 19. | The Role of Audiences, Citizens, and Victims in International Crises: Addressing Public Health Crises and Pandemics Annemarie Wiedicke and Constanze Rossmann | 228 |
| 20. | Domestic and International Audiences of Organizational Risk and Crisis Communication: State of the Art and Cross-Cultural Implications An-Sofie Claeys and Andreas Schwarz | 244 |
| 21. | Reputational Crisis in Politics Sergei A. Samoilenko | 259 |
| Part V The State of Crisis and Risk Communication Research Around the Globe | | 273 |
| Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Africa | | 275 |
| 22. | Crisis Communication in East Africa: The State of Research and Implications for Practice Angella Napakol, Aisha Sembatya Nakiwala, and Marjorie Kyomuhendo | 277 |
| 23. | The Role of Customary Crisis Communication Mechanisms in Ethiopia Tariku Abas and Zenebe Beyene | 293 |
| 24. | Culture, Ethnicity, and Religion: A Combustible Mix in Crisis Communication in Nigeria Amiso M. George and Wole Adamolekun | 306 |
| Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Asia | | 319 |
| 25. | Crisis Communication Research in South Korea Soo-Yeon Kim and Sora Kim | 321 |
| 26. | Risk and Crisis Communication Research in Singapore Augustine Pang, Jerena Ng, and Jason Shi-yang Lim | 333 |
| 27. | Risk and Crisis Communication Research in China Yingru Ji and Chang Wan | 347 |
| 28. | Risk and Crisis Communication Research in India Krishnamurthy Sriramesh and Ganga S. Dhanesh | 363 |
| 29. | Risk Communication Research and Practice in Japan Mihoko Sakurai | 375 |
| Crisis and Risk Communication Research in the Middle East | | 387 |
| 30. | Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Israel Eytan Gilboa, Clila Magen, and Ester Cohen-Rinski | 389 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| 31. Risk and Crisis Communication Research: Contextual Characteristics and Perspectives from the GCC Countries Ilhem Allagui | 402 |
| Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Europe | 417 |
| 32. Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Germany Andreas Schwarz | 419 |
| 33. Risk and Crisis Communication Research in the Nordic Countries Finn Frandsen and Winni Johansen | 435 |
| 34. Revisiting the Challenges of Crisis Management and Crisis Communication Research in Russia Sergei A. Samoilenko and Greg Simons | 449 |
| 35. Risk and Crisis Communication Research in Romania Corina Buzoianu, Monica Bîră, and Alina Bârgăoanu | 463 |
| 36. Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Eastern Europe Katerina Tsetsura, Marta N. Lukacovic, and Iuliia Dolmatova | 477 |
| Crisis and Risk Communication Research in the Americas | 493 |
| 37. Risk and Crisis Communication Research in North America Shari R. Veil | 495 |
| 38. Risk and Crisis Communication in Latin America Jesús Arroyave and Ana María Erazo-Coronado | 506 |
| 39. Risk and Crisis Communication Research in Brazil Rodrigo Soares, Rozália Del Gáudio Soares, and Paulo Henrique Soares | 517 |
| 40. Crisis, Risk, and Media Cases in Argentina Damián Fernández Pedemonte | 528 |
| Crisis and Risk Communication Research in Australia and Oceania | 539 |
| 41. Risk and Crisis Communication in Australia and New Zealand Christopher Galloway and Theodore E. Zorn | 541 |
| Part VI Emerging Topics, Challenges, Theory, and Methods | 553 |
| Conceptual and Theoretical Developments and Challenges in Crisis and Risk Communication | 555 |
| 42. International Crises as Wicked Problems and Mega-crises: Opportunities for Building Crisis Communication Theory on an International Level Rodrigo Soares and Timothy L. Sellnow | 557 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| 43. Instructional Communication Theories, Models, and Constructs in Risk/Mega-Risk and Crisis/Mega-Crisis Deanna D. Sellnow | 566 |
| 44. Risk-based Approaches to Crisis Management and Communication Frederic Bouder | 580 |
| Methodological Developments and Challenges in Crisis and Risk Communication Research | 595 |
| 45. Aligning the Field: Embracing the Interdisciplinary, Conceptually Divergent, and Methodological Diverse Reality of Good Research in Risk and Crisis Communication Audra Diers-Lawson | 597 |
| 46. Opportunities and Pitfalls of Computational Communication Science for International Risk and Crisis Communication Research Daniel Vogler | 615 |
| 47. Methodological Challenges of International Crisis Communication Research W. Timothy Coombs | 626 |
| Technologies and Practices in International Crisis and Risk Communication | 637 |
| 48. Technologies in Crisis Communication: Tools, Systems, and Infrastructures Rob Grace | 639 |
| 49. Preparing for International and Cross-Cultural Crises: The Challenges of Research in Action, Competing Voices, Inclusivity, and the Interplay of Responsibility in Global Organizations Ben Duncan and Audra Diers-Lawson | 656 |
| Summing Up & Looking Ahead: The Future of International Risk & Crisis Communication Research | 675 |
| 50. The Expanding and Dynamic Field of Crisis and Emergency Risk Communication: Summary, Implications, and Outlook Andreas Schwarz, Matthew W. Seeger, and Sora Kim | 677 |
| Index | 690 |